Affiliate Member

This category of membership receives full benefit of The Centre's facilities and services, excluding those relating directly to professional support given to Accredited Members.

Affiliates are likely to be:

- practitioners using counselling and therapeutic skills or working from a transpersonal perspective in a related field (e.g. in coaching, education, health and social care);
- therapists on sabbatical and hence not needing to maintain accredited status with The Centre;
- individuals who have made a connection with The Centre in the past, particularly with the work of Ian Gordon Brown and Barbara Somers, and who wish to maintain that connection and support the work of The Centre.

Affiliates are not bound by The Centre's Codes of Ethics and Practice and Complaints Procedures. However, The Centre reserves the right not to accept or renew applications for Affiliate Membership where an applicant's actions are contrary to the ethos of The Centre or bring The Centre into disrepute.
